

FIND YOUR MEDIUMSHIP

"Communication" the New Monthly Spiritualistic Magazine, will begin an Instructive Series in the First Number, entitled "Searching for Your Open Door," that will help YOU do the Right Things to Find How YOU May Communicate with the Loved Ones in Spirit.

THERE WAS A TIME When nearly every home had its Medium—when the veil between earth and spirit was nearly lifted—a period in which the latent powers of mediumship, that abide in all mortals, were encouraged to develop. But this was not confined to one era. The same thing has happened time and time again—proving that, when mortals are ready, and when they search, they will find! To know how and where to look, is necessary. No mortal can command his or her type of mediumship. No one can force any form of mediumship to come. Occasionally, these psychic manifestations come unbidden, and perhaps unwelcome. But to try to command any form of mediumship to come, is useless. Better by far to go through periods of development, and know the signs, so that you may learn which type of manifestations and which form of communication you may receive.

Prejudice has arisen at times in opposition to these spirit-manifestations—but prejudice was pitted against the advancement of science, and what did prejudice accomplish? The day has arrived when prejudice is weak, and the world is more nearly inspired to be tolerant. Is it not a crime now to communicate with your loved ones in spirit—and if you can learn how to communicate in your home, what greater blessing could you, or any other mortal, ask?

"Communication," the new monthly magazine—soon to make its appearance—will guide and instruct you and help you discover your type of mediumship.

Clairvoyance, Clairaudience, Psychometry, Crystal-clairvoyance, Impressions, Inspirations, Written Messages, Physical Manifestations, and Many Other Avenues of Spirit Communication will be Explained!

Just as characters differ, and experience differs, so are there differences among mortals when it comes to receiving spirit communications. You know a good deal about trumpet manifestations—but perhaps there is much more to learn. You are familiar, no doubt, with the phenomena of materialization, but there still is much more to learn. You have heard about independent slate-writing, and automatic-writing and the ouija, but there are rules to be followed to make such messages dependable. You know something about transfiguration, about table-tipping and rappings. But there are other forms of mediumship—forms so numerous and so strange, perhaps YOUR type of mediumship still has to be discovered.

Beginning with the FIRST number of "Communication," you will be taken into the interesting phases of PSYCHIC MEDIUMSHIP that differ from all the manifestations we have enumerated. While all of those forms will be discussed fully, there are these other types—these finer shadings—which you should understand, if you are to develop and find and unfold your particular phase of mediumistic manifestations.

"Communication" will give you instructions in Clairvoyance, much talked about but little understood, Clairaudience—the power to hear spirit-voices when others near you can not hear those voices; Psychometry, that strange type of mediumship that makes possible the "reading of the record" contained in any article. For example, a good Psychometrist is handed a bit of plaster, and holds it in his hands. Before his vision come the incidents, in detail, that were enacted—or even thought about—in the environments of that plaster. Thus, as truly as the phonographic record registers sound, so does every act and every thought send out its vibration. These vibrations, true to the causes that set them in motion, register those thoughts and incidents faithfully on whatever substance they reach. The murderer, committing his evil deed in the dark, careful to leave no clue—no telltale finger-print—feeling secure in his cleverness—has imprinted on every piece of furniture, and on every part of it, on every wall, in every fabric, on every article and every part of every article in that room, the complete record of the murder, its motive, the murderer's name, description, and clues beyond counting. What a gift to be able to take something from this room, and see and hear every detail of that crime, and bring the guilty one to justice. Psychometry will be explained to you in "Communication," telling you how to test yourself to learn if you possess this type of mediumship.

Sometimes the Clairvoyant must have a globe or crystal or flower to gaze at—in order to focus the picture. And then, there are Impressions, and Inspirations—and you should know how to cultivate them. There are different types of written messages, and there are physical manifestations. And beyond all these are countless other types of mediumship and forms of communication—and no more interesting series of instruction ever will come to you, regardless of price, than the instructions you will receive in "Communication."

Those Who Have Developed their Mediumship Along these Many Lines Will Supplement these Instructions with their Experiences!

In our possession we have a wealth of information received from mediums who have developed these different phases of mediumship. A Canadian gentleman told us only recently about manifestations he and three others secure. They sit in the dark and have a trumpet, and this trumpet moves all over the room, but no voices come through it. On a table, there are paper and pencils, and soon after the seance starts, they will hear a pencil writing rapidly on the paper. Then there is the sound of the crumpling of the paper, and it is thrust, by spirit-hands, into the trumpet. After the seance, this paper is smoothed and ironed out, and the writing is so fine, it is impossible to read it except with the aid of a powerful magnifying-glass, with a six-inch lense. One of these four persons spends a whole day magnifying and copying the message!

One, two or three of these persons can not get the manifestations. The four, sitting together, receive these communications. Thus, you will see that often one person can not succeed alone, but that sitting with another or several others, results will be obtained.

Until you know how and where to look for the signs of psychic powers, and are instructed in the unfoldment of these gifts, you will depend largely upon "stumbling onto them." Why stumble, when the way will be lighted for you?

You can not blame any medium for not wishing to take the time to explain to many different persons just how that medium's gift was discovered, which form of mediumship came first, just what happened in the unfoldment of that power. But these mediums are willing to talk to many through the pages of "Communication," and if you are one of the first subscribers, you will be one of the many to receive this valuable instruction. You are getting the benefit of the experience of many mediums, now and in the past. You have the sum-total of this knowledge and experience to guide you—and you will be astounded, as you read these instructions published in our magazine, how many different forms of mediumship there are.

Just as a child starts with the simplest forms of learning, and eventually becomes a learned professor, so do mediums begin with one phase of mediumship, and develop many other mediumistic gifts. But—Which comes FIRST? That is what you wish to know with relation to yourself! It is what we will help you to know, if you will begin with the very first number of "Communication," and get a firm grip on the rudiments and the finer details of mediumistic development.

You will be helped by many mediums—and you would be justified in spending many dollars for this instruction alone, not taking into account any of the other most interesting and helpful features of this beautiful magazine.

In addition to the instructions, will be experiences, and these experiences will help you find the signs whereby you may know how you are developing, and if you are attempting to develop along the right line! Could anything be more practically helpful to you?

IF AT ONE TIME EVERY FAMILY HAD ITS MEDIUM WHY CAN NOT THE SAME THING RECUR?

The reason you are sure there will be sunrise tomorrow morning, even though the sun's light may be obscured by clouds, is because every day since the world began, there has been a sunrise. And just as some mornings are cloudy and dark, so are there times in human progress when certain gifts seem to sink into disuse. This does not destroy those gifts. Like the sun, they are shining just the same, and when the RIGHT CONDITIONS arrive, those gifts will become manifest!

But if you do not care to develop any phase of mediumship, remember that you may help to bring out some good medium in your family or among your friends. Also remember that as you learn more about this psychic unfoldment, you are putting a keener edge on YOUR OTHER GIFTS. You are gaining in that helpful INTUITIVE SENSE, upon which you must rely so often, when judgment alone seems to be unreliable.

What has occurred, can recur. If only one man could arise from the ground and fly, that would prove that the power to fly is inherent in humanity. Others in time would master the same power. If one man paints a beautiful picture, then art is something humanity has inherited and there will be other artists. Each artist will have his own little touch, and will express his talent in some typically peculiar manner, but it is talent nevertheless. So, in mediumship, each medium has something characteristic in his or her work—and you also would have some characteristic. First you must learn the basic principles, and follow them to some kind of conclusion.

If "Communication" contained nothing more than these instructions on the unfoldment of psychic gifts, on the development of YOUR TYPE of mediumistic power, it would be worth MUCH MORE than its small subscription price. But this is only one of MANY interesting features!

RIGHT NOW—Make this—THIS DAY a Real Christmas Pleasure!

No $2.00 Bill You Ever Spent Could Have Brought You So Much in Return in Inspiration, Instruction or Enjoyment

In this circular we have told you facts that you recognize as both interesting and important. We have come to you fortified by what we have done. You have witnessed our growth. You have become acquainted with us. You have helped us grow. And you must realize that there is no other means of spending two dollars and getting so much in return. This, we believe, is evident after even a casual consideration of the fact, the help of inspiration, the value of instruction, that will come to you through the pages of "Communication." Surely starting with so much of importance, this magazine must grow in value, in size, in merit. This is true, because from the day we received word from our first announcement, with its flood of subscriptions, we had the handclasp of hundreds of splendid men and women, who are anxious to do their part in making this magazine a wonderful success. Could anything else better prove that "Communication" has come at the right time, to do a very necessary and most worthy work? Never has a magazine been launched with more friendly greetings or pledges of support, and this spirit of co-operation will continue to grow!

SEND "COMMUNICATION" AS A GIFT TO FRIENDS

"Communication" is not for you alone. Surely, you have friends who would be delighted to have "Communication" as a present. You would not help them so much if you presented them with a sum of one hundred times the small subscription price of this magazine, because Truth can do what money never can accomplish.

Should you feel that it is incumbent on these friends to send their own subscriptions, then at least help them and help us by sending us their names. These names are carded, and no reference is made to their source. If you know of interested persons, then let us send our printed matter to them, so that they may partake of this endless feast of truth! They will appreciate this co-operation, and you will be glad to know that you have done your part in furthering this work!

While we shall advertise "Communication" extensively, we know that these names sent in are the best kind of names. We know that our friends exercise real judgment in selecting these names—and in sending the complete names and addresses to us.

Today you may think of a name or two. Tomorrow you may think of another name. A week hence, one or two more names may occur to you. If you will be good enough to let us have these names and addresses, you are helping—and we know that you wish to help in every possible way—through subscribing for the magazine, through subscribing for some of the Memberships, and through sending in these names and addresses. It is the sum-total of this sort of co-operation that makes growth rapid and healthy. This is not one person's work, but the work of MANY!

A Little Speed TODAY Will Help Us and Make You Happier!

EVERY DAY, many subscriptions are being received for "Communication." Tomorrow, we shall have many more than we have today. The next day, the list will have grown. Each day is taking us that much nearer the actual publication of this magazine. At the time this circular is prepared, the second circular, announcing "Dreams," has just been mailed. The 32-page booklet, "Let Us Start at the Beginning," will go out before this circular. Therefore, the subscription-list will have grown proportionately. I believe it will be up to, and maybe beyond, the required 5,000 which good business judgment dictates as necessary before we publish the first number, for the reason that the cost of a 5,000-issue will be very little more than the cost of a 2,000-issue. Inasmuch as we look to you to join us in taking some of the Memberships—as many as possible—we feel that we are conserving your interests by doing everything in a businesslike manner.

If your subscription has been sent, how about the Memberships? If your subscription for "Communication" has not been sent, why not anticipate your good intentions by sending it NOW? That carries us along the trail just that much farther.

If your subscription has been mailed to us, this circular, passed to a friend, may go a long way toward making that friend happy, and helping us. The prudent business-man looks with as much favor on every article he has in stock as he does upon his bank-balance. Each subscription means much to us—and will at all times, even when we have reached the million-mark. Our thought is of the individual. That is why we are succeeding. In our office, we talk about these individual friends of ours—speak of them just as though they were frequent visitors to our office. And I know that if each of our friends will think of us in the same personal way, the result must be gratifying to all of us. I know also that, if each of our friends will think of us in this manner, none will hesitate or delay sending a subscription, and taking some of these Memberships.

We ask SPEED—not because we are speed-maniacs, but because there is so much to be done—so much that every day that is fallow of BIG results, seems like a jewel chipped from the diadem of Eternity.

Don't feel offended at our persistence. Everything worth while in this world—and perhaps in spirit, too, when the whole story is known—has gone forward through this same earnest, eager devotion to the end to be attained!

PLEASE SEND US NAMES OF MEDIUMS AND CHURCHES

There is another way you can help, and if we did not tell you about these various means of co-operating with us, we would not have so much interest in you. We regard you as a friend, and usually one goes to one's friends for help. Also, in asking help, we are going to give help. We pledge you a magazine that will give you the MOST for your money you have ever purchased.

In your community, there may be spiritualistic churches, centers and mediums. If you will send us the names and addresses of these churches and mediums, that will enable us to write to them if we do not have their names in our records. One of the purposes of this work is to co-operate with mediums and spiritual church organizations.

If you attend any spiritual church or know any mediums, tell them about our work. Get the names of as many members as possible. This is important, for while you are permitting us to put others in touch with mediums and churches, others are sending information that will prove just as welcome and just as helpful to you.

"Communication" is not the organ of any one church, center or organization. It is for ALL of them, and we wish all to participate. This great co-operative work must include all, and you can help make this possible. We know that you will be glad to comply, if possible, with this request.

Through this magazine, you will be made acquainted with mediums and organizations, and when you travel, you will be able to attend seances and services. This is an advantage for you as well as for the others. Help make that privilege what it should be for all our readers.

If You Don't Start NOW, You'll Miss What You Need Most!

MAKE "COMMUNICATION" your magazine! Make it a personal, intimate thing—an entity that has a place in your life. This magazine is an instrument with a spiritual mission. Its purpose is to draw together, to focus, for your benefit, the helpful truths that go to make up this interesting and important study of LIFE! "Communication" has as its object the reaching of the INDIVIDUAL, so as to bring to that individual the greatest help—the self-starters that will enable that individual to help himself or herself MORE AND FASTER!

EACH MONTH, for twelve consecutive months, "Communication" will come to your home or to your desk, as a welcome visitor. You will look forward to its arrival. You will have placed along your pathway of earth-life, twelve milestones of achievement. Each number will mark the swing of the pendulum of your progress. Nothing else that has ever come into your life will be more intimately associated with your well-being than this beautiful magazine.

Don't cease with your subscription. Permit your vision to show you what the possession of some of these Memberships will mean to you. Be part of this work—in fact as well as in good will. Let this enterprise mean more to you than simply something afar off!

With all His power, God can not call back today—and the measure of today's progress is determined by the degree of today's deeds. The DECISION is yours. What is it?
